THREE PRACTICES

BRANDING, IDENTITY, AND DIGITAL FOR THE OUTDOORS.

Northbound runs a small offer on purpose. Three core practices, applied to one kind of client. Every engagement starts with the brand and ends with the build.

BRAND SYSTEM ARTIFACTS

BRANDING

01 · BRANDING

THE STRATEGY AND THE SYSTEM.

Brand work at Northbound is research-led and product-aware. We start by understanding the company — what it makes, who buys it, where it sits in the category, and what's actually true about it. From there, we build the system: positioning, voice, naming when needed, and the visual identity that holds it all.

IDENTITY & PRINT

02 · IDENTITY & PRINT

THE ARTIFACTS THAT CARRY THE BRAND.

Logos, marks, packaging, lookbooks, hangtags, retail signage, catalogs. The objects a brand actually shows up as. Northbound brings a product designer's eye to brand artifacts — every detail is treated as something that has to function in the world.

03 · DIGITAL

WEBSITES THAT HOLD UP.

Brand websites, ecommerce, and digital systems built on modern frameworks. Northbound writes the copy, designs the system, and ships the build. We keep digital scope tight — most clients don't need a hundred pages, they need ten that work.

— HOW WE WORK

FOUR PHASES. NO FIXED TIMELINE.

We start with a conversation. What the company makes, what it needs, what's already working. Most engagements begin with a one-page brief.

PHASE 02 · STRATEGY

STRATEGY.

The thinking before the design. Positioning, voice, audience, and the framework the rest of the work hangs on.

PHASE 03 · DESIGN

DESIGN.

The brand system, identity artifacts, and digital design — built in parallel where it makes sense, in sequence where it doesn't.

PHASE 04 · BUILD & HAND-OFF

A NOTE ON ENGAGEMENTS.

§ 04

ABOUT.

Northbound®

04 · ABOUT

EST. 2019

A STUDIO FOR ONE INDUSTRY. THE OUTDOORS.

Northbound is a Portland design studio working with outdoor companies. We started in 2019 with a narrow idea — design for one industry, and only that industry — and seven years in, the thesis has held.

— THE STUDIO

WE STARTED INSIDE THE INDUSTRY WE NOW SERVE.

Northbound was founded by Maren Hollis in 2019, after a decade designing gear and apparel for outdoor brands. The studio's first office was a corner of a screen-printing shop in Northeast Portland. The second was a converted woodworking space three blocks east. The current studio is in the same neighborhood. We haven't moved far.

The thesis hasn't changed either. Northbound works with outdoor companies — gear makers, apparel labels, guide services, retailers, and the occasional nonprofit — because depth beats breadth when you actually know a category. Our clients don't have to explain what a softshell is, or why the seam placement on a pack matters, or what makes one trail brand feel honest and another feel like a costume. We already know.

The work is brand-first — strategy, identity, and digital. It always starts from the product, because that's where the founder started.

— THE FOUNDER

MAREN HOLLIS.

Maren spent the first years of her career at Foothill Supply Co., a small Portland outdoor brand where she did everything — designed packs and softgoods, wrote the catalog, shot the lookbook. From there she moved to Heyburn, where she led product design across technical apparel and hardgoods for nearly a decade.

She opened Northbound in 2019 with a single thesis: design for the outdoor industry, and only the outdoor industry. The studio's editorial sensibility — the typography, the restraint, the way

— WHAT WE BELIEVE

A FEW THINGS WE HOLD TO.

01 — DEPTH BEATS BREADTH.

We work with one industry because knowing it well changes the work. There's no version of "we also do outdoor" that produces the same result.

02 — THE BRAND STARTS AT THE PRODUCT.

Every good outdoor brand starts with something physical — a pack, a parka, a route, a place. We build out from there.

03 — RESTRAINT IS A FEATURE.

The industry is loud enough already. Our work tends toward quiet because clarity is harder than ornament.

04 — WE DON'T DO COSTUME.

There's a way of writing about the outdoors that sounds like it's auditioning for a magazine cover. We don't do that. The brands we admire don't either.

05 — SCOPE IS A KINDNESS.

the work reads — comes directly from those years inside the catalog and the gear room.

She still sketches every brand by hand before it goes digital.

Tight scopes make better work and better relationships. Most engagements are eight to sixteen weeks. We say no often.
